Triaxial Cell ZI 3057

Standards:

Specification:

In a soil triaxial shear test, Triaxial Testing Apparatus is used to apply stress to a sample of the material being tested in a way which results in stresses along one axis being different from the stresses in perpendicular directions.

- Loading pad made of Perspex for 38mm dia specimens.
- Pair of plain discs made of Perspex 38mm dia 6mm thick.
- Pair of porous stones 38mm dia specimen.
- Split sand former for 38mm dia specimen.
- Sheath stretcher for 38mm dia specimen.
- One dozen rubber sheaths for 38mm dia samples.

- For synthetic rubber 'o' rings for 38mm dia specimen.
- One plastic drainage tube.